COMMUNITY COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA

ON BEHALF OF Community College of Philadelphia’s Board of Trustees and the College community, welcome to Commencement 2025. At this most important and joyous ceremony of the academic year, we celebrate our students’ academic achievements and reaffirm our continuing commitment to the College’s mission.

Our students have demonstrated great dedication and determination in completing their educational goals, and I applaud their hard work and resilience.

Observing the granting of degrees and certificates is a long-standing tradition, and we are proud to honor student accomplishments in the presence of family, friends, and the College community.

Commencement also highlights our outstanding faculty and staff who devote their expertise, time, and energy to help students achieve this significant milestone. Participation in the Commencement exercise is a meaningful experience for graduates, as well as for family members and friends who support students on their academic journey. This event is a fitting finale to years of effort and sacrifice.

Congratulations to the 2025 graduating class. Thank you for choosing Community College of Philadelphia as your alma mater, and for joining us for this memorable and happy occasion. I wish you the best in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Dr. Alycia Marshall
Interim President

Academic Regalia

THE COLORFUL REGALIA worn by academicians is steeped in tradition, dating back to the ecclesiastical garb of the Middle Ages. Adaptations from ecclesiastical to academic dress began in early European universities, which were founded by the church. University faculty and students wore the adapted robes for distinction and warmth. The University of Cambridge is cited as the first to use the academic gown.

Representatives of American universities met in the early 1890s and agreed upon a standard style of academic attire. The Intercollegiate Code, revised in 1932 and again in 1959, is followed today by American colleges and universities, except for a few schools, which continue to use the styles of England.

Gowns are traditionally black; however, some colleges and universities have authorized use of a color symbolic of the institution. Associate and bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves and are designed to be worn closed. Master's and specialist gowns have long, closed sleeves with an arc near the bottom and an opening for the arm. Doctoral gowns are faced with wide velvet panels and have bell-shaped sleeves with three horizontal velvet bars.

Caps, originally round, are typically square mortarboards. Some universities have adopted a doctor's cap, which traditionally has a gold tassel, with a soft crown instead of the mortarboard.

TASSELS

At Community College of Philadelphia, a gold tassel is worn by students, signifying that they are all members of one lion pride, exuding the same strength and courage of our fearless lion leader, Roary.

HOODS

Hoods, which originally were attached to the gown and could be slipped over the head for warmth, are the most colorful articles of clothing for specialist, master's, and doctoral recipients. The color of the lining of the hood represents the university awarding the degree. The color of the facing of the hood reflects the academic discipline of the wearer's highest degree.

Colors that may be seen among the marching faculty and their corresponding fields of study include brown (fine arts), crimson (journalism), dark blue (philosophy), golden yellow (science), lemon yellow (library science), light blue (education), yellow-brown (commerce, business, accountancy), pink (music), purple (law), sage green (physical education), scarlet (theology), and white (arts, letters, humanities).

THE MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of academic scholarship and integrity since the 11th century, is used to lead the academic procession at commencement and other special ceremonial occasions, signifying the importance of the event and the conformation of the academic process.

Ceremonial maces derive from maces used as weapons in the Middle Ages. The first maces were a heavy staff or club, made wholly or partly of metal and often spiked, and were used to break armor. The earliest ceremonial maces are believed to have been carried by sergeants-at-arms who protected kings in France and Germany. Over the centuries, maces became more decorative and symbolic. Maces are part of ceremonial traditions in the U.S. House of Representatives and the British House of Commons.

The tradition at Community College of Philadelphia's Commencement exercises is to honor a senior faculty member by being named the Mace Bearer. This honor may go to a retiring faculty member, or as is the case this year, to a past winner of the Christian R. and Mary F. Lindback Foundation Award for Excellence in Teaching.

GONFALONS

The gonfalons – or banners – are a recent addition to Community College of Philadelphia's Commencement exercises. The gonfalon is a long banner that is suspended from a crossbar. The name derives from medieval Italy, where "gonfalon" was the name given to community meetings in Florence. Each neighborhood had its own flag and coat of arms, and the word gonfalon eventually came to be associated with the flag.

At Community College of Philadelphia, each degree type has its gonfalon and the "gonfalonieres" – the carriers of the banners – precede the candidates for each degree type during the processional into the arena. The gonfalon bearer is an honor accorded to a member of the faculty from a department offering that degree type. The colors associated with each degree type mirror the tassel color worn by the degree candidates.

THE HONORABLE AUSTIN A. DAVIS

Lieutenant Governor, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Lt. Gov. Austin A. Davis is the youngest lieutenant governor in the country and the first Black lieutenant governor in Commonwealth history.

Austin's path to the second-highest office in the Commonwealth started in McKeesport, a former steel town in western Pennsylvania. He's the proud son of a union bus driver and a hairdresser.

At the age of 16, Austin was living in McKeesport when gun violence came to his doorstep. After a shooting in his neighborhood, he got involved in his community, starting a youth advisory council with the mayor and a youth gun violence prevention program at his high school.

Austin went on to study political science at the University of Pittsburgh, becoming a first-generation college graduate and then pursuing a career in public service. He returned to McKeesport to work for the Allegheny County executive. In that role, he helped create the first violence prevention office within the Allegheny Department of Health.

In 2018, Austin successfully ran for the state House of Representatives to represent the Mon Valley, becoming the first African American to represent his legislative district.

As lieutenant governor, Austin presides over the Pennsylvania Senate, chairs the Pennsylvania Board of Pardons, leads the Local Government Advisory Committee and serves on the Pennsylvania Emergency Management Council. Gov. Josh Shapiro has also appointed Austin to chair the Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency and serve as co-chair of the Early Learning Investment Commission.

Austin currently resides in Allegheny County with his wife, Blayre Holmes Davis, and daughter, Harper.

Honors

Honor students are indicated by the following symbols:

- Cum Laude
- Magna Cum Laude
- Summa Cum Laude

Honor students are selected based on their academic records as of the end of Fall Semester 2024. It is possible that final assessment of grades may change some of these standings and that other names may be added. Such additions will be noted on transcripts and diplomas.

Students graduating Summa Cum Laude have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.8. Students graduating Magna Cum Laude have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.5. Students graduating Cum Laude have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.2. Honor students are acknowledged by the wearing of Honor Cords around their necks. Students graduating Summa Cum Laude wear a triple-braided strand of gold, blue and white; students graduating Magna Cum Laude wear a double strand of blue and white; and students graduating Cum Laude wear a double strand of gold. Students wearing gold stoles are members of Phi Theta Kappa, the International Honor Society for community colleges. Students wearing sapphire blue stoles are members of Alpha Beta Gamma, the International Business Honor Society for community colleges. Students wearing dark blue stoles are members of Delta Psi Omega National Theatre Honor Society. Also, wearing distinctive red, white and blue cords are graduates who are veterans having served honorably.

Community College of Philadelphia reserves the right to add or withdraw names from the list of candidates for associate degrees and certificates since final action cannot be taken before this program goes to press.

With Gratitude

Commencement is the culmination of hard work and determination demonstrated by students, and this accomplishment illuminates the dedication of all faculty and staff to student success.

Planning, organizing and managing the Commencement day celebration brings together individuals from across the institution who work as a cohesive team, committed to honoring graduates for reaching this milestone. The College wishes to thank all of you for your efforts, creativity, energy and attention to detail. This day is a proud reminder of what is possible when our community comes together.

Community College of Philadelphia is committed to the principles of equal employment and equal educational opportunity and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ancestry, creed, national origin, age, sexual preference, religion, sex/gender, individuals with disabilities, protected veterans, marital status, genetic information or any other protected category under the applicable local, state or federal law. Any questions regarding this statement should be directed to Leila Lawrence, Director/Title IX Coordinator, Room M2-7; telephone number 215-751-8036.
